Fund Manager Commentary
William Blair SICAV US Small-Mid Cap Growth Fund

Market Summary

Third quarter returns for U.S. equities were strong as stocks continued their upward movement from the first two quarters of the year. Improving economic data and solid corporate earnings growth were the primary reasons for the robust equity returns year-to-date in 2017. Specific to the third quarter, returns were generally positive for the first six weeks of the quarter as favorable corporate earnings growth was in focus. As a barometer, corporations in the S&P 500 Index reported second quarter earnings growth of over 10% compared to the same period in the prior year, and approximately 73% of companies in the S&P 500 reported higher earnings per share for the second quarter than was expected. Domestic equities then took a slight pause mid-quarter as heightened geopolitical tensions and concern regarding the impact of two major hurricanes weighed on the minds of investors. However, tensions eased in early September and the projected financial impact of Hurricane Irma, the second of the two hurricanes, appeared to be less than originally feared. Later in September, the U.S. Federal Reserve reiterated its expectation to raise interest rates a third time this year, giving confidence to investors that the U.S. economy continued to improve. Also, the current Administration released details of its tax reform plan which would cut the corporate tax rate from 35% to 20%. Both the projected rate increase and tax reform plan were viewed as positive for U.S. equities and most major indices finished the quarter at all-time highs.

Fund Review & Outlook

The William Blair SICAV Small-Mid Cap Growth Fund underperformed its benchmark, the Russell 2500 Growth Index, during the third quarter due to style and stock-specific factors. After outperforming through the end of August, small cap and more economically-sensitive stocks, both of which we are underweight, outperformed in September. For the quarter as a whole, our emphasis on durable business models was a headwind as companies with more volatile fundamentals outperformed. Specific to stocks, our positions in diversified technology company j2 Global and rail equipment manufacturer Westinghouse Air Brakes Technology were the largest detractors from performance. Shares in j2 Global declined after the company divested an online business, but did not lower 2017 guidance. The divesture made investors skeptical that the company will be able to deliver on earnings expectations for the year. Westinghouse Air Brakes Technology underperformed after the company reported second quarter results below expectations and lowered guidance. Weakness in its Freight and Transit segments caused the lower-than-expected quarterly results. Other top detractors in the quarter were Signature Bank (Financials), Glaukos (Health Care) and DexCom (Health Care). Our top contributors in the quarter were video game developer Take-Two Interactive Software and molecular diagnostics company Exact Sciences. Take-Two Interactive reported strong quarterly revenue growth which topped expectations and was driven by strength from recurring revenue sources. Exact Sciences outperformed after the company reported strong quarterly results, signed a contract with one large insurer and extended a contract with another large

While positive economic data and corporate earnings growth fueled robust equity returns for the first three quarters of 2017, it remains to be seen if the level of equity returns experienced so far this year is sustainable in an environment where many risks remain. Pertaining to fiscal policy, it is unclear whether the current Administration will be able to implement pro-growth initiatives such as tax reform and infrastructure spending after being unsuccessful in implementing meaningful health care reform to date. Lack of progress on pro-growth initiatives could dampen optimism that the U.S. economy will have sustained higher growth going forward. Regarding monetary policy, the U.S. Federal Reserve, after two federal funds rate increases so far this year, remains focused on the health of the labor market and its 2% inflation target. While job gains have remained solid and unemployment is at historically low levels, headline inflation remains low. If inflation does not accelerate, the Federal Reserve may have to balance interest rate increases with inflation below targeted levels. The U.S. economy is also subject to risks from abroad. A major geopolitical conflict in the Korean Peninsula, an aggressive pull back in quantitative easing in Europe or a financial crisis from high debt levels in China all have the potential to derail positive economic momentum in the U.S.

We continue to focus our attention analyzing businesses from a bottom-up, fundamental perspective. As such, impacts of economic developments are analyzed on a company-by-company basis. We continue to invest in companies with durable growth drivers and whose stocks present compelling risk/reward opportunities. It is our view that a portfolio constructed in this way is less dependent on economic growth and will be rewarded over time.
